WHILE it is true that Parnell is a great leader Ireland's hope lies not alone in him. Were he to fall another would take his place and the sentiment that is working out Ireland's salvation would continue to grow just as Ireland continued to show herself worthy of it. Leaders are always necessary, but the cause of human rights is above them all and the eternal justice of the principles involved are worth more to the Emerald Isle than is the mere fact that they are being pressed for recognition by this man or by that.

THOUGH the incursion of the late cold wave into Florida was quickly followed by the wail of the orange growers announcing the wholesale destruction of their crops and young trees, Jacksonville papers of the 14th and 15th take a less doleful view of the result. The Times Union of the 15th sums up the situation by saying that while there are conflicting opinions, the general belief is that the young trees are killed, but the old ones are all right. This will relieve the minds of fruit dealers and lovers of oranges.

AN eastern clergyman being brought before the bar of hizzonner the other day to answer to a charge of assault preferred by a young girl of his flock, explained that his object in kissing her was purely hygienic. She was a very nervous girl and he wanted to quiet her and show her that she had a friend.
 The Omaha Herald immediately announces that a substitute for cocaine has been discovered by this clergyman.
 The Herald is behind the times. As an anesthetic, kissing was discovered a million years before cocaine. It is only once in a good many thousand times that it fails as in the case in point.

PERHAPS the most original plea for a pardon yet made is that of a convicted Maryland forger. His mother has just died and left him $100,000 and he has sent a petition to the Governor for release, promising, in the event of favorable action, to become an exemplary citizen. Anybody can be an exemplary citizen on $100,000 if he wants to, but the Governor ought to give this fellow a chance to be an exemplary citizen under circumstances not so easy. As he has six more years to serve in a term of ten years he should begin to be an exemplary citizen now and perhaps after six years' practice in jail he can safely be turned out to go it alone on his $100,000.

THE four Newark children who were sent to Paris to be treated by M. Pasteur by inoculation for hydrophobia returned home on Thursday morning sound and well and apparently well satisfied with their trip. That they are out of all danger is not at all certain, if the dog that bit them was really mad, as the disease sometimes appears nearly or quite a year after the patient has been bitten. The most valuable outcome of the trip of the Newark children to Paris for treatment is the knowledge acquired by Dr. Billings, who accompanied them, of Pasteur's methods.
 If the remedy proves to be efficacious he will be able to enter upon its application in this country as soon as the proper virus can be procured.
